Why Do Experiment Stations, Agricultural Colleges and Fruit Growers Recommend Fall Buying?

Because you can buy this fall and have the stock shipped to you and "heel it in" so that you may plant at the most favorable time during Fall, Winter or next Spring.

Fall planting is becoming more popular each season as experience shows its advantages, and it is becoming general. As soon as the tree or shrub becomes dormant it can be moved and the change of location will affect it but little. When set out in the fall, the bruised roots begin at once to heal and callous is formed; the trees recover quickly from moving, soon become firmly established and with the first touch of spring are ready to go into business for themselves vigorously.

Again, the ground is usually in better condition for planting in the fall than in spring, for much spring planting is done when the ground is too wet for best results. Perhaps your spring will be two or three weeks earlier. In this case your trees should be planted earlier than the dates you have ordered them shipped. If they have been planted in the fall, the spring delays are done away with.

Below We Quote from One of the Best Authorities in the Country on This Subject:

W. M. HARRISON, Virginia, in "Inland Farmer":

"Trees set out in the fall live and thrive better because it is not so hot, the soil is generally moist and they do not have the hot sun on them all at once before they take root. They also derive much benefit from early spring rains and melting snows. By spring the trees are ready to grow off rapidly."

GRAPE VINES GREW LIKE MAGIC

Dear Sir: May 1, 1939.
Two years ago I ordered a few Concord Grape vines. My means were very small and I have never been able to get grape vines in my orchard. I saw your advertisement in the Farmer's Agricultural magazine, so I decided that was my chance.
When I received my order my friends laughed at me, telling me I still didn't have any grape vines for my orchard. Nevertheless I didn't become discouraged. I planted the grape vines and worked them regularly. They grew like magic. They bore their first crop of fruit last year.
My same friends that laughed at my little dead sticks, as they called them, have changed their tunes and have come to me for your address to order them some vines. This year from the looks of the vines I will have enough for my home use and then a good sum for market. I can truthfully say—No trees, vines or shrubs from any other Nursery Company excels those coming from the Benton County Nursery Company, Rogers, Arkansas. You shall always get my orders and all the others I can influence.
Yours truly, Vera M. Jennings, 740-B West Fair St., Atlanta, Georgia.

We allow 10 per cent off the 100 rate prices on lots of 1,000 and up, on Apples, Peaches, Plums, Cherries and Pears.

RASPBERRIES BROUGHT 30c PER BOX

Dear Sir: February 10, 1939
For prompt and best varieties yours is the best. The trees bear earlier, yield heavier and live longer than any trees I have ever tried. They are the best trees than can be bought for so little money.
I have been getting your nursery stock for ten years and it is true and is reliable. The fruit as large as your catalog says it will be, too.
My Raspberries yielded well, and they brought 30c a box.
Yours truly, J. F. Kimberlin, La Russell, Missouri.
